

Joint Call for Papers-Special issue on Financial Economics

【Guest Editors】

Chih-Yung Lin	National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University, Department of Information Management and Finance
Shiu-Sheng Chen	National Taiwan University, Department of Economics
Yehning Chen	National Taiwan University, Department of Finance
Yen-Cheng Chang	National Taiwan University, Department of Finance
YiLin Wu	National Taiwan University, Department of Economics

【Goals】

This call for papers is jointly organized by Taiwan Economic Review and Journal of Financial Studies for a special issue on Financial Economics to be published in 2025. This special issue aims to invite original theoretical and empirical research articles on recent developments and cutting-edge research in financial economics. The manuscript could be in Chinese or English.

【Themes】

Impact investing	Asset pricing models
Socially responsible investing	Mutual funds
Corporate climate risk exposure	Corporate finance
Climate risk financial disclosures	Accounting disclosures
CSR and ESG	Corporate governance
Green finance	Financial markets and institutions
Financial technology (Fintech)	International finance
Venture capital and private equity	Real estate
Insurance and risk management	Other financial economics areas

【Submission guidelines】

Full manuscripts should be submitted to Taiwan Economic Review or Journal of Financial Studies by September 30, 2024, through the submission links <https://www.ipress.tw/J0179> or <https://www.ipress.tw/J0206>. Please select the box for this special issue on the submission system. You can submit a rejected manuscript by one Journal to the special issue of the other Journal. The guest editors will pass the previous referee reports to the potential new reviewers.